Greetings Life-Forms,

Inside this Software Toys® catalog, you'll find:

SimCity 2000™, The Ultimate City Simulator, has new art, new animations, new sounds, new music, new heights (32 levels of altitude) and new depths (an underground layer for transport and utilities), making one of the best games of all time even better.

SimFarm™, SimCity's Country Cousin, lets you experience the joys, trials and tribulations of running a farm—without waking up at five in the morning. SimFarm transports you from the urban jungle to the wide-open country. Don't worry, it'll grow on you.

Unnatural Selection™, a battle strategy game where your only weapons against an evil scientist's herd of fighting creatures are your mind and the basis of life itself—DNA.

- A new version of SimAnt® for the Super NES®.
- More new stuff—with our new Affiliated Partners program, we are now distributing quality products created by other fine developers (and all-around swell people):

Baseball for Windows™ by Miller Associates gives you the complete baseball experience: from starting your own league, to making the game-winning (or losing) decisions.

Doodle-mation™ by ScreenMagic is the doodle pad for the electronic age. It's a mind-relaxing toy with movement, color and sound.

Kid's Studio™ by CyberPuppy Software, Inc. is a multimedia production studio for kids. So easy to use that anyone—even adults—can combine pictures, text and sound to create works of art.

- Plus our full lineup of award-winning Software Toys and the Maxis Book Shop.
- By the way, we've repackaged the original SimCity, and renamed it SimCity Classic™. We also lowered the price and spiffed up the DOS version.

When you see this symbol, it means that education versions are available (see How To Order for details).
